'KICKOFF' LOCK WINS SATURDAY!

It's that time again! Every September, while the kids go back to school, smart sports bettors go "Back to BONDII!" And with good reason.

Harry "007" Bondi is a 32-year handicapping veteran with a track record of success that is unmatched in the sports service business. Harry is a straight shooter and one of the few handicappers in the business confident enough to offer only one set of selections.

Whether you're a $100 bettor or a dime bettor who won $29,500 with us last football season, a full-season "Steam Team" membership is the same: a one-time fee of $2,500.

You'll receive all of our NFL and college football selections beginning today through the Super Bowl in February with no additional fees, or requests to "upshift" for special "Millionaire Big Games."

It's the best investment you can make in your football betting future so pick up the phone and speak directly to Harry Bondi right now at 1-877-332-0077.

If you call Harry before Saturday, Sept. 9 he will save you $300 on America's Winningest Sports Service so you can receive the same games that the sharpest bettors in Las Vegas unload on each weekend, all for just $2,200.

Heisman Trophy favorite QB Sam Darnold and the USC Trojans host Stanford on Saturday in an early season Pac-12 showdown.

Speaking of Big Games, we were a perfect 4-0 on our "Lock of the Year" selections last year and we went a bookie-busting 16-5 on our 21 highest rated plays of the season. Many of Harry's fellow handicappers in the business marveled at our success last year and were surprised that Harry and his team of handicappers have been in the office for 10 hours a day since July 5, pouring over the daily reports we receive from our network of 400 college, NFL and sportsbook insiders.

But if we want to hit 76% of our biggest plays again this year, we realize we have to work even harder to stay on top. And that's exactly what we have done. Now it's time for YOU to turn Harry's knowledge into BIG MONEY by calling and joining the "Steam Team" today!

We will WIN BIG again, starting with our 2017 Kickoff Lock winner that goes this Saturday, Sept. 9th.

The lines for this weekend's games have been up for months and we have zeroed in on three games each on Saturday and Sunday where we feel the pointspread is off by more than five points!

Don't miss another "fast start" to the season by Harry Bondi. Our first BIG GAME of the season will WIN BIG this Saturday, Sept. 9. Join America's best Big Game Handicapper, Harry Bondi. Call today!

BONDI'S BEST BETS

SATURDAY, SEPT. 9TH

WASHINGTON STATE over Boise State 10:30 P.M. ET

Washington State has struggled mightily during the Mike Leach Era in the early stages of the season. Over the last 5 years, the Cougars have gone just 2-5 in the first two weeks of the season, including unforgivable losses to the likes of Eastern Washington, Portland State and Rutgers. Because of that, we have been told that

Leach put a huge emphasis on getting off to a better start this season and not suffering similar early-season defeats, so we expect a fully focused effort here from Washington State, which is also in a revenge spot after falling behind 14-0 and eventually dropping a 31-28 decision on Boise State's blue turf last year in Week 2. The Broncos return just four starters on defense, so you can bet that Leach will have QB Luke Faulk throwing deep into the fourth quarter and help him start to build his case for a Heisman Trophy with some huge numbers. The Cougars are 10-6 ATS the last four years as a home chalk and Boise rarely goes on the road out of conference to play a team of this caliber on their home field. A primed and focused Washington State comes out on all cylinders and has too much for a Boise State that is in decline. 45-20

★ WEST VA. over E. Carolina

We predict a down year for the Mountaineers, but this is a game where head coach Dana Holgorsen knows he has to win impressively in front of the home crowd. Coming in off an opener vs. Virginia Tech, the WVU offense will find the going much easier here against a depleted ECU stop unit. WVU is 18-3 in the series and 17-1 in home openers, including an average margin of victory of 30 ppg the last 13 seasons. 34-6

★ N.M. State over N. Mexico

Former Notre Dame head coach Bob Davie has done great things since taking over the Lobo program, except against in-state rival New Mexico State. The Aggies have covered three straight in his heated annual game, including a wild 32-31 victory last season. With nine starters back on defense and the addition of 7 JUCOS, the Aggies will be more than ready for New Mexico's run-heavy attack. Take the points. 31-27

★ WAKE FOREST over B.C.

BC head coach Steve Addazio is one of Harry Bondi's five "College Coaches on the Hot Seat" this season (see page 4 of this issue), and after another loss to the Demon Deacons, the seat gets even hotter. Unlike BC, Wake has improved each season under head man Dave Clawson, including a 4-1 ATS record as an away dog last year. Deacons have too much firepower for the offensively challenged Eagles. 28-14

SUNDAY, SEPT. 10TH

JACKSONVILLE (+5) over Houston 1 P.M. EST

The Jaguars struggled to another losing season in 2016, going just 3-13, but you've got to give them credit for not standing put. Not only did they hire a new head coach in Doug Marrone and go for a "sexy" first-round draft pick by selecting LSU running back Leonard Fournette with the No. 4 pick, but they also went out and spent $173 million in free agency, the most of any other team in the league. While we expect this offense to struggle until they finally unload Blake Bortles, the defense will once again be very good in 2017. Believe it or not, the Jags had one of the best scoring defenses in the NFL in the second half of last year. That has to concern Houston head coach Bill O'Brien, whose starting quarterback Tom Savage won the job by default over rookie Deshaun Watson. In addition to a journeyman QB, the Texans running game was also a disaster last year, ranking as the fifth-worst in the league by our advanced metrics. So we'll gladly take the points in Week 1 with an underrated Jacksonville defense going head-to-head with a Texans offense that will struggle again in 2017, especially during the early stages of the season with Tom Savage at QB. 23-17

★ MIAMI (-1) over Tampa Bay

No, we're not one of the very few people in the Jay Cutler Fan Club. But the fact is that this was a decent signing for the Dolphins and the former Bears sourball isn't that much of a drop off from Ryan Tannehill. Meanwhile, we think Tampa is one of the more overrated teams in the NFL. Many have them as a "sleeper" to win their division, so much so that the price here has dropped to a near pick'em. Fins win. 28-17

★ UNDER 47 POINTS - Browns at Steelers

The average over/under for Pittsburgh regular season games over the last two years has been 47 and, as a result, the Steelers have gone under in 20 of the 32 games (63%) played during that time span. It appears the oddsmaker has not caught on, so we'll just keep cashing tickets on the under, especially when the Pitt "D" gets to face a team and a QB as inept as the Browns and rookie QB DeShone Kizer. UNDER son with a shoulder separation.

DeShone Kizer has once again fooled a head coach into thinking he will be the answer at QB. Kizer is a super talented kid that makes a habit of turning the ball over in the red zone. It almost got Brian Kelly fired last year at Notre Dame and it will drive Hue Jackson crazy in Cleveland. But Jackson has no other option since the front office tried to shove Brock Osweiler down his throat as the starter, but the Denver Bronco-Houston Texan reject couldn't win the job and may not even be the back-up because he's been so bad. Kizer becomes Cleveland's 27th starting QB since 2009. By comparison, New England has had five.

We will have many easy winners in the next two weeks because of our intimate knowledge of team's depth charts. Don't procrastinate and sit on the sidelines only to realize you missed out on a boat load of easy money while you tried to pick the games on your own. Call and speak to Harry Bondi before this Saturday, September 9 and WIN BIG MONEY with our College Kickoff Lock!

HARRY BONDI'S 2017 COLLEGE COACHES on the HOT SEAT

1. Brian Kelly - Notre Dame

No one is on a hotter seat than Kelly (right). The Irish are coming off one of their worst seasons in history and have one of the nation's toughest schedules in 2017. Kelly says last year's 4-8 record was because he spent too much time fundraising. No excuses this year! If he doesn't get eight wins in '17, Kelly will be the latest in a long tradition of Irish coaches getting paid not to coach!

2. Todd Graham - Arizona State

After leading the Sun Devils to a pair of 10-win seasons, ASU has had two losing seasons in a row. School administrators refused to add a year to his contract this off-season. Another losing season and Todd is toast!

3. Lovie Smith - Illinois

It's only Smith's second year at Illinois, but this was a bad hire. Lovie's a nice guy, but flamed out in the NFL and had not coached college football in 21 years.

4. Sean Kugler - UTEP

Expectations are not high at UTEP but how can you survive anywhere when your four-year overall record is 18-31 and you go a pitiful 11-21 in the weak Conference USA? If it's not a winning year for the Miners, this master bullshit artist will be asked to ride out of the west Texas town of El Paso!

5. Steve Addazio - Boston College

Addazio is a real hardass and has not made many friends in four years at BC. They were ready to run him out of town after a 3-9 season in 2015, but he bounced back with a 7-6 2016. This year's squad will struggle on offense and when your defense is continually called on to win games it means trouble. A non-winning season and "Coach A-Hole" gets canned.
